STILL ANOTHER REDCLIFF MAN GIVES HIS LIFE

John Brayley Believed Killed in Action July 25—Leaves
Wife and Family Here—
Was Fine Citizen.

"John Brayley is reported missing and believed to have been killed on July 25th."

This message came over the wire from the military department yesterday morning and brought sorrow and gloom to another Redcliff home.

Brayley is a Redcliff man who enlisted with the 6th and 1st England for the front on June 28th. By this it would be seen that he was in the trenches one month when he lost his life.

He came to Redcliff three years ago last April and a time worked at the carpenter trade. Later he was employed at the Brick & Coal plant.

Brayley was a married man and his wife and three step children still reside here. One of his children, McKinnon, is with the 175th now in training at Sarnia.

Mr. Brayley was a Canadian born man, having first seen the light of day in Spring Hill, N. S. He was 36 years of age when he was a fine specimen of Canadian manhood. He stood at most six feet high and was every inch a man. Although of a quiet and unassuming disposition he made many friends during his stay here and was among our best citizens.

To his wife and children the sympathy of the entire community goes out at this time.

Will Assist Farmers To Get Harvesters

The Department of Agriculture has arranged with the railway companies to grant a rate of one cent per mile with minimum of $1.50 for harvest help to all points where the railway companies are operating. This arrangement is being put into effect by Mr. Charles S. Hotchkiss, chief publicity commissioner, valid during the month of August.

These certificates may be obtained from Mr. J. A. Weir, at Lethbridge; Mr. H. J. Donnelly, Calgary; and from Mr. S. Hotchkiss, chief publicity commissioner, Calgary.

Farmers requiring farm help should apply direct to the above, and to Mr. L. L. Hartman, at Sarnia, where the Department has opened an office to assist in obtaining orders for harvest help.

Germany is Now in Trouble With Sweden

The situation in regard to the Swedish steamer Regina, seized by the Germans as a prize a few days ago, and now detained by the Swedish government in Pillite harbor, is somewhat critical and feeling is running very high.

It is known that the Swedish government gave the Regina in charge of the ship a time limit of 24 hours to reply to her seizure and that the German authorities asked for an extension to this. This request was refused by the Swedish government and notified their determination to delay the ship on the ground that she was no longer legally a German prize.

The whole Swedish press concurs in the opinion that the recent move by the German side against an unprovoked Swedish merchantman constitutes an unprecedented violation of neutrality laws. In particular it is pointed out that the agreement between the governments of Germany and Sweden, under which certain classes of timber were permitted to be exported to Sweden, never have been cancelled, yet German raiders have seized and sunk ships which should be protected by the government.

Appraisers appointed by the federal district court at Norfolk, Va., fixed the value of the Regina at $1,250,000. Soon afterward consular agents arrived to argue a motion that the ship be turned over to English owners under bond, pending appeal from the court's decision against the German prize crew which from the German side is being fought in the courts.

Court of Confirmation Passed Off Quietly

His honor, Judge Green, sat again last Monday to hold a court of confirmation to confirm the tax information for the town.

There was only one claimant registered and that was David Hollinger, who was represented by R. C. Hollinger, and the complaint was with regards to Arlington subdivision of which Mr. Hollinger is the owner. As their solicitor was unable to be present Mr. Hollinger asked for an adjournment till the following day when the matter could be taken up during his honor's stay in Medicine Hat. The solicitor, David, agreed to the adjournment and the judge allowed it.

As arranged, the complaint was heard in the Hat on Tuesday afternoon but as yet the judge has not given his decision.

Successful Pupils From Redcliff School

The following pupils from the Redcliff school were successful in passing their public school leaving examinations. The results for grade IX are also now out and in this case also the successful Redcliff candidates. These are: Elythe M. Broadfoot, Marjorie L. Chadwick and Elsie E. Clark.

Among those who passed completely in grade XI was Mildred V. Nicholson, also of Redcliff. She is now in Alberta but is given permission to enter normal on application to the Department of Education.

The results for grades IX and X will be in the daily papers in the course of the next few days.

Prize Winners in Bowling Contest

The following is a list of the winners in the bowling contest at Mac's restaurant held on July 1st. The winners were: Five Pins—A. Womery; Ten Pins—J. W. Campbell; Duck Pins—E. Allen. Putting up most games—J. W. Campbell.

The Annual competition is now in full swing.

Income Taxation on Foreign Securities

In view of the large purchases made in Canada of Anglo-French and other government bonds issued in the United States and the serious effect which the continuation of such purchases will have upon the exchange situation between Canada and the United States, it is now regarded as certain that, at the next session of the Canadian parliament, the introduction of imposing special income taxation upon all non-Canadian securities held by Canadians. The effect of such legislation will be along lines somewhat similar to that at present in force in England and enacted for the same purpose and will cause the liquidation of the securities specially taxed. This liquidation will tend to reduce the income of the United States and the proceeds of the sale of the securities will be used to serve the Canadian cause. There is also evidence of money in the United States to take up all the securities of the proceeds of the sale of the securities will be used to serve the Canadian cause. Red Cross Executive Holds Regular Meeting

The regular meeting of the Red Cross executive held in the society rooms last Tuesday afternoon.

As some of the officers elected for the year have since left town it was necessary to elect new officers to fill the vacancies.

Mrs. Howard was elected vice-president. Mrs. Cormack was elected secretary and Mrs. Parker was elected treasurer. The following purchasing committee was also appointed: Mrs. Oates, Mrs. Stoner, Miss Cormack and Mrs. Harber.

A letter was read from the secretary of the central organization acknowledging receipt of the last shipment and complimenting the local branch on the excellent work it is doing.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the W. A. of St. Ambrose church for their contribution of the proceeds from the dance held recently.

A letter was read from Mrs. Chadwick in which she tendered her resignation as superintendent of work, as she is leaving town.

A motion was then passed in which the society expressed regret at the loss of such a valuable member and thanking Mrs. Chadwick for the untiring efforts she has always put into the society.

In conveying to Mrs. Chadwick the feeling of the meeting, Mrs. Gordon, the president, spoke in glowing terms of the excellent services rendered to the society by Mrs. Chadwick since she accepted the office of superintendent of work. She attributed to her many much of the success which the society had attained in the past and spoke of the loss not only to the society but to the church where she was a member and the town generally which her removal from amongst them would mean. She also expressed the hope that Mrs. Chadwick would continue to lend her valuable services to the cause in her home and extended to her the best wishes of the society.

Italians Are Ready For Big Offensive

The Italian offensive along the Isonzo and on the Carso Plateau is being continued and, according to a telegram dispatch from Rome, a number of additional positions have been occupied. The Austrians hold little ground on the right bank of the Isonzo.

The dispatch reports the number of prisoners taken by the Italians has increased considerably, and that the Austrians are now destroying villages in the vicinity of Gorizia.

The British has several Japs at home and the workers were turning out rifles, ammunition, guns and even tanks.

The Japanese people feel a great sympathy for Britain and Canada in the war, and are doing their best to help in any way they can.

Russians Take Six Villages from Hungarians

In Northern Galicia the Russians have struck another hard blow at the Austro-Hungarian empire, capturing the towns of Brody, six villages held by the Hungarians and the entire ridge on which the towns are located. Furious fighting marked the engagement, the Russians being forced in the villages to drive the Hungarians out of the towns. The Austro-Hungarians, at last reports, were bombarding violently their last stronghold in the town of Brody. The Russians captured a regimental commander and 140 other officers and more than 5,000 men, and also a number of machine guns and bomb throwers.

BULGAR PEOPLE WILL NOT FIGHT ENTENTE ALLIES

An influential French merchant who has just come from Bulgaria, says that enthusiasm for war has completely died down and any hope of a successful termination of the struggle is now practically non-existent, even in military and court circles. The Bulgarians fully realize the terrible error they committed last October and are now resigned to the prospect of severe and speedy punishment. One political leader, who is now contemplating joining the ever-growing ranks of the opposition, expressed himself as follows in the interview.

"Last October, when for a long time the entente had promised us much, but did not do it, we yielded to German pressure to go and take it. Our military party made a move to leave, but it was not serious move for most of us. We have now agreed to the peace. The people thought that once the territory promised to us had been taken, matters would go no further. Very few people in the country would have consented even after the severe punishment to go against Germany and Russia."

"We now have our eyes open. We see that the entente has deceived us. We are now in a position to get the first dose of the poisonous German pill."

"Smithy" Recovering From German Gas

Major Dodd is in receipt of a letter from Herbert Smith, formerly with the Merchants Bank here, who was one of the first boys to leave Redcliff when that town was under German attack. He is now recovering from the effects of the gas.

"Smithy" has been in the hospital for several months. In speaking of the gas he says: "I caught it pretty badly but I am getting better, and have after a while to be my old self again. I had a medical examination a week ago and the doctor was very pleased with my progress, although he said it would be some time before my lungs would be all right." He said that Colin McLean, who went with him from here, was wounded about the same time as he was but that he is better now and at the general headquarters in France.

Says Japan is Doing Her Share for Allies

Commander Denno, of the Japanese navy, is now passing through Canada. He is most enthusiastic over the allied cause and says that Japan is doing her share for the allies.

French on Offensive On Verdun Front

Verden, almost quiescent during the Anglo-French offensive in the Somme region, has again become the scene of a battle on the western front. The French have been taking the offensive on the right bank of the Meuse and now have the Thiaumont work and the greater part of the ridge of Fleury, according to Paris.

The Thiaumont work, already the scene of a battle, was captured twice in French hands during 12 hours on Friday last. The forces of the German command were fighting tenaciously, driving the French from the work, but losing again. Counter attacks were of no avail, says Paris, and the work remained in the possession of the French. Fleury, which changed hands after the French had succeeded taking it, is again almost entirely occupied by the French. Fleury fighting still continues in and around the Thiaumont work.

British Have Plan to Foil the Zeppelins

The ineffectiveness of the last raid on the east coast of England by six Zeppelins, which took place during the present dark moon—is attributed by many Londoners to the operation of a mysterious new kind of device.

It is believed that the government is using an electrical invention which would cause the Zeppelins to be repelled from the pilots and other stores the big ships where they do not want to go or to upsets the compass of the Zeppelins and also the other part to do effective bomb throwing.

FAIRM HELP.

Since there is a great possibility that farm labor will be hard to get for the approaching harvest we would advise farmers to start now to secure their help and not leave it till they are ready to start the binder going. Any available men in the district should be engaged at once a few weeks wages. They can money well spent. Once they earn their wages right now by helping to get the machinery in shape for the rush when it comes.

In order to assist the farmers in securing help for work in the harvest fields we wish they would take the names of any who want work and will let us know. In this way we will be in a position to let farmers know of any in town who are available. Already we have placed several men in this way, and although our list is exhausted at present we expect to have more from time to time.

If there are any men in town who are looking for work in the harvest fields we wish they would leave their names at this office.

WOMEN'S FRANCHISE.

In the natural course of events there will be a provincial election here sometime within the next ten months or a year and we were just wondering if the women of the province were fully aware that when that election does come they will have the opportunity for the first time of exercising their franchise.

This privilege seems to have come so easily and with so little fuss or excitement that we fear the average women do not fully realize that she has it. Nor does the average man for that matter. Yet it is nevertheless the case that at the next provincial election every lady who is a British subject, of the full age of twenty-one, has lived one year in the province and three months in the electoral district, will have the right to vote.

We would therefore advise them to start now and get posted on political questions which are likely to be an issue at the next election.

The daylight saving system which was adopted in many western towns and cities does not appear to be panning out successfully and in many places they are going back to the old fashioned way again. People are beginning to find out that they cannot fool themselves into believing they are getting an hour a day by simply manipulating the hands of the clock, any more than they can add a few years to their life by cutting a few months off the calendar each year.

Down in Ontario they appear to be having quite a time over the temperance question. Some time ago the government of that province decided to put prohibition into effect on September 15th and have it in force until after the war when a vote of the people would be taken to decide whether or not it would be continued. This appeared to be satisfactory to the temperance element, in fact it is what they asked for. In the meantime a by-election was held in North Perth and the government candidate who supported this legislation was badly defeated. Now the Heavert government is up a tree and does not appear to know which side to climb down. As a result they are now considering the advisability of calling for a vote before things go any further.

A TERRIBLE PRICE.

The views which came from the battle front this week has placed the heavy hand of sore affliction upon another of Redcliff's once happy homes, as it announces that John Brayley has answered the last call.

The news reminds us afresh of the terrible loss of the present conflict and reminds us of the price this little corner of the Empire is contributing as her share in helping to maintain the rights of existence for the weaker nations of Europe.

We are told that the lives of the nearest in our state are sacred to "Him who marketh the sparrow's fall." Since this is so, the awfulness of this war is brought home to us with renewed emphasis when we see that the very best of the nation's manhood, such as Jack Brayley and those from here who have already paid the price, are losing their lives.

The price is great but it was ever thus.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Several farmers from this district have complained to us about what they consider is a very unsatisfactory grain market this point. They tell us that the rates at the elevator here are from five to ten cents a bushel less here for both wheat and oats than they are at any of the elevators in Medicine Hat.

If this is the case it is a serious matter as it will mean that business which rightly belongs to this town will be switched into other channels.

There may be some excuse for a difference of a cent or two between the two points but there certainly is no reason why the spread should be so big as the figures above stated.

We are assured that right now several farmers who would prefer to market their grain and do their shopping here have been compelled to drive right through town to the next point because of the wide difference in price.

With this year's crop almost ready to harvest it is not hard to figure out what a loss it will be to the town if the complaint of the farmers is correct.

THE MISSING LINK.

The Medicine Hat News discounts our story about the traveler being soaked $150 for a bed in that city, and as a reason for its conclusion the News says: "A circumstance which discredits the Review's story lies in the statement that a traveller visited Redcliff." Now the only "lies" we can discover in any of the statements is in the one made by the News, as we never said a traveller visited Redcliff. We didn't say so because we know very few people visit Redcliff. Most of them come to stay, and quite a number of our latest arrivals have come from Medicine Hat. The only people who really visit Redcliff are those brought up here by Medicine Hat friends who bring them up here to show them the wonderful uses to which natural gas can be put in a real live manufacturing centre. No, no, Brother Alfred you will have to look over our chain once more. You haven't found the weak link yet.

CROP CONDITIONS GOOD.

In spite of the persistent efforts to bull the market by sensational reports about hail and black rust in the western provinces we feel confident that the record breaking harvest of 1915 is about to be duplicated by the magnificent crop almost ready for cutting in this district.

There may have been more straw and some longer heads last year but the uniformity of this year's stand warrants the prediction of an even better yield than last year.

Cutting will commence next week and will be in full swing in a fortnight.

The black rust cry has been greatly magnified for market purposes. There is positively none of it in Alberta and with no serious accidents this district will add another bumper crop to its list.

Why the Patriotic Fund Is Not Raised By Taxation

In view of the fact that a new campaign to raise money for the Patriotic Fund will be started very shortly, the central committee for Southern Alberta has just given out the following statement explaining why the Patriotic Fund is raised by voluntary subscription instead of by taxation.

Under the Canadian system of constitutional government the right of direct taxation upon lands and other resources rests in the hands of the provincial governments and the municipalities. The province of Alberta would have the right to raise money for patriotic purposes by imposing a property and poll tax, but no legislation to that end has been passed and could not now be enacted and made effective in time to provide the fund needed this year to care for the soldiers' dependents, and it must also be remembered that under existing conditions the collection of taxes either by the provincial government or the municipalities is so slow that the dependents of soldiers would have to wait many months before money from that source would be available, and the cost of collecting the tax would be at least ten times what it costs to collect the voluntary contributions.

The Dominion government could, of course, provide a patriotic fund by donating some millions of dollars for that purpose, but the government's outlay is already very much more than its income from taxation, and any additional outlay would have to be met by the issuance of bonds. This would mean that the people of Canada, instead of providing for the wives and children of our soldiers out of their income, would be providing for them out of borrowed money, which would have to be paid back in years to come, and these same wives and children and such of the soldiers as return would have to pay their share of this debt. It would be poor assistance to families of our noble defenders than had attached to it the contribution that in years to come they must pay back with interest in some form of taxation.

It may be added that the whole question of taxation, as voluntary contributions has had the most serious consideration by those who have the welfare of the land at heart, and the voluntary system seems the only present solution.

Should Know the Names of Seeds

Twenty per cent of the 400 farmers visited in the Agricultural Survey in Ontario in 1915 did not know the name of any variety of grain sown on their farms. In Dundas county, where 100 farms were visited, of a total of 86 farmers growing barley only 11 knew the variety grown. Fifty-two per cent of the 400 farmers visited in the province were growing barley and only 18 per cent knew the name of the variety.

Only 64 per cent of all the farmers visited knew the name of the variety of oats grown. The variety of wheat which do not know the variety used may be sowing grain unsuited for their farms. There is very little excuse for the prevalence of such conditions. Every farmer sowing an unknown grain lives within reach of some farmer who grows a known sort of proved excellence, from whom seed can be obtained. Farmers wishing to obtain seed for next year should arrange for it early and choose a variety which has been tested and proved to be good. The Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa and the various Agricultural Colleges have carried on such tests for the benefit of farmers, the results of which may be obtained free upon application.

Red and black rust was discovered in several parts of the Moose Jaw district Friday afternoon by Hugh McElduff of the Saskatchewan Farmers' well known expert of this city. Damage at the present time is infinitesimal, but it is feared that the season will spread with it a present weather.

Wages Regular War On Invading Locusts

San Jose, Costa Rica, has just completed the destruction of an invasion of locusts. It was the first appearance of the insect there since 1878, and was so extensive that it called for the resources of the government to check it.

The population was for a time thrown into a panic, and even women and children turned out to fight the insects. Some of the methods used in exterminating the pests were not unlike those employed in destroying human beings on the European battlefields.

The invading army was bombarded with cannon loaded with sand, and with rockets sprayed with asphyxiating gases and blown up with gunpowder. The torch was also used, and there was likewise let loose to attack the insects an army of neo-bacilli, military enemy of the locust.

Disease among the locusts thus happens, however, did most to destroy them, as has sometimes been the case in human armies.

Settlers Leaving Ontario Fire District

Fears of another outbreak of fire in Northern Ontario are causing many to leave their homes for the older parts of the province. Yesterday's fire from the south brought families, only one or two having been in the fire zone or suffered loss. A number will remain in the city, but the majority are going to other parts of Ontario. The flames have approached to within 1500 yards of Ryegarden, according to refugees, and the residents of that district are leaving as rapidly as possible to escape the threatening fire. Only a heavy downpour, they state, can avert disaster.—Toronto World.

Praises Organization of British Forces

Under the title, "The Army Behind the Army," Lord Northcliffe contributes a lengthy article to the Times describing the wonders of the organization behind the "British Front" in France, which he favors with conditions earlier in the war.

"This is a war of machinery as well as of bravery, and among German's many blunders was her forgetfulness of the British power of quick improvisation and organization in unexpected circumstances, which is the secret of our success in building up an empire in strange lands."

"I say without hesitation that, making allowances for wartime, our line of communication and organization, superimposed as it is upon the over-worked French railways and roads in a country where there is no native labor to be had, is, in August, 1916, as near perfection as it ever can be."

IRISH WOMAN IS SERBIAN SERGEANT.

Miss Flora Sandes, an Irish woman who is a sergeant in the Serbian army, has arrived at Toulon, on her way to join her regiment after a holiday in Ireland, according to Le Matin. Miss Sandes was in Serbia when the war broke out and joined as a hospital nurse. Later on she enlisted as a regular soldier and went through the last campaign, taking part in the disastrous retreat to Durazzo.

Food Prices Go Up in Scotland

A report from Glasgow says: Ocean freight rates are playing havoc with the retail prices of food in Scotland. Despite the fact that food, as well as other articles at available world sources is plentiful, transportation and insurance costs are so high that the retail prices of all articles, especially food, continue to advance. A recent estimate of the increase of food prices throughout the whole of the United Kingdom placed the average advances since the beginning of the war at 85 per cent.

Merchants hold out no hope to consumers that food prices will decline in the near future. They point out that while America, Argentina, Australia and New Zealand all are full of food awaiting shipment, food freights are higher now than they were last season, and that, if anything the level of prices may be slightly advanced.

A report from Tokio says it is yet too early to indicate with certainty the program of expansion to be followed by the Japanese navy, but naval leaders will insist in the next diet upon an important building policy. Some years the impression has been growing that the navy consists of too many old units and too few modern fighting ships capable of protecting the coast.

British Defeat

Turks at Suez

The strong Turkish forces which attacked the British at Romani, 22 miles east of the Suez canal, on August 4, was defeated and not to fight by a counter attack, says an official statement issued.

The Turks, adds the statement, are being vigorously pursued by the British who have taken more than 2,500 prisoners, including some Germans.

British Freighter
Sinks a Submarine

Capt. David Thomson, master of the British steamship Strathmore, from Mediterranean port, told of an engagement which he declared his vessel had with a German submarine on July 15, in which the submarine was sunk. Two gunners from the British navy who were in charge of a six-pound gun mounted on the starboard deck of the Strathmore for defensive purposes, sank the submarine, according to Capt. Thomson, when a ball struck it amidship, causing an explosion. He said the underwater boat dived suddenly and was not seen again. While the Strathmore was struck several times, once, according to the captain, by a torpedo, no great damage was done and the freighter escaped with several dented plates and portions of her superstructure demolished.

Canadians Popular
In Old London

A London paper says that residents of the metropolis are coming to think more and more of the Canadians. Their popularity is increasing as all classes begin to cheer them on any occasion, for their prowess in the trenches and in the leading lines at the front.

The most recent opportunity to play homage to the men of the Dominion has just occurred in the parade of 100 selected bandmen of the Canadian expeditionary force. The musicians, who were the soloists picked from 15,000 bandmen with the force, gave a grandiose concert at the Royal Opera House, in aid of the women's tribute week.

Then, divided into three complete bands, they paraded the Strand, Piccadilly, Pall Mall, and into Trafalgar Square, receiving cheers from all sides.

Turning Point of War Now Reached

General Joseph Joffre, generalissimo of the French army and the guiding spirit of the united army of the allies, received the Associated Press correspondent and for upward of an hour talked freely and fully on many interesting phases of the war. He expressed the view that the turning point of the great conflict now had successfully been reached and passed, and with the united action of the entente allies on many fronts, they were pressing forward to certain collapse of the German efforts and to a assured victory by the allied armies.
